

inequalities matter

Project Objectives

1. To include vulnerable and fragile categories (migrants, ethnic minorities, people with migrant backgrounds, youth with fewer opportunities or in a marginalised situation and elderly people) in the discussion on environment and climate
2. Clarify the environmental challenges and empower all citizens on climate topics, accompany them in becoming environmental citizens
3. Increase awareness of citizens on participatory methodologies, and incentivize them in raising their voices and actively participate in the decision-making process especially when tackling environmental topics
4. Strengthen the inclusion and collaboration of citizens and fragile/ "unheard" people in action and debates, and local projects

How?

- Encourage peer learning and exchange of best practices among partners, focusing on improving environmental competencies and participatory tools, especially for engaging marginalized groups. This will be achieved through a training of trainers and study visits.
- Create a multiplier effect by organizing tailored workshops to transfer knowledge to targeted groups and establish a working group for co-designing participatory tools/pilot actions.
- Develop and test pilot actions to introduce more inclusive mechanisms, enabling marginalized/vulnerable groups to actively participate in decision-making and actions.

